Benedict P. Morelli & Associates is a well respected law firm with a specialty in Employment Discrimination Cases. We represent individuals who have claims involving race, gender, age and sexual harassment.

Over the last five years, the firm has litigated cases that were featured in CNN New York Magazine, Crain's New York, The Wall Street Journal, The New York Times, USA Today, and many other publications around the country.

We have litigated against some of the largest companies in the United States, including Phillip Morris, NBC, Merrill Lynch, Solomon Smith Barney, Morgan Stanley, Deutsche Bank, Credit Suisse, 1st Boston, T.D. Securities, J.P. Morgan/Chase to name a few.

Our law firm consists of fifteen lawyers, and a large support staff. We are dedicated to furthering the rights of employees who are victims of unlawful treatment in the workplace. Our clients are individuals who have lost their jobs because they are women, because they are over forty years old, or because of their race, religion, gender or national origin.

We also represent people who have been victims of unfair treatment at work or who have been denied raises and promotions for illegal reasons.

We also represent many women who have been subject to sexual harassment by either supervisors or co-workers.

Our firm is dedicated to enforcing a workers' right to a fair and open workplace.

We have obtained numerous large recoveries for our clients.

Some of our recent recoveries are:

- $3.75 million for a woman forced to have sexual relations with her boss.
- $2.5 million for four clients fired by a multinational tobacco company.
- $1 million for a client denied promotion by a large paper company.
- $1.8 million for clients terminated by an investment bank.
- $800,000.00 for a woman terminated by a garment manufacturer because she became pregnant.
- $700,000.00 for an employee of a major television network.
- $500,000.00 for another employee of a major television network.

Christian Curry v. Morgan Stanley

Finally, one of our clients, a former employee of an investment bank was able to purchase a newspaper, Ferrari and open his own investment firm
